CAREER SUMMARY

He has 20 years of law enforcement experience prior to joining the corporate environment. His first five years of corporate security were with a computer hardware company with $2B in revenue. He was charged with creating a global security organization that included facility security, guard service, investigations, traveler security, and policy development.

Next, he worked with the Salt Lake Olympics Organizing Committee to manage security at sites not handled by the Secret Service.

Owen then managed global physical security for a Fortune 100 company for over 10 years. This again included all aspects of site physical security, managing a $37M global guard service contract, managing a global investigations team, and ensuring safety of employee travelers to any of the over 90 countries employees traveled to.

One of his passions is developing and presenting training programs applicable to his areas of responsibility. He has presented training programs on investigations and workplace violence mitigation globally.
